

SunWalk 2011: Basel – St. Petersburg

I will start this long-distance walk on May 9th 2011– again as a prayer with body and soul

- for 100 % renewable energy and energy efficiency
- for an energy democracy with decentralized energy supply instead of the influential energy monopoly industry with big profits at the expense of Mother Nature and of all the future generations
- for an end of the nuclear power era, also in Poland and Russia
- for planetary ethics of responsibility, solidarity, respect for life, and of nature beauty.
- for a simple, healthy and Earth compatible lifestyle that nourishes all the senses.

I expect to arrive in St. Petersburg around the 20th of July 2011. I will spend some weeks in St. Petersburg and Moscow. I intend to be back in Switzerland in the middle of August 2011.
